ABOUT COMPANY

Alan moda was established in 1987. It has been manufacturing and exporting jackets and outdoor products since it was founded. In 2007, alan moda has decided to continue as a family company and added denim groups to its product range. A year ago, alan moda added knitting group to its manufacturing skills and started to provide knitted collection and production service to all of its customers. We created our inhouse production capacity with cell production lines, which was can produced denim, non denim, soft woven and knitted jersey group due to we can produce all our garment groups with one knowhow, quality understanding, sustainability and innovation. One of our biggest features in our production is that there are different (washing, printing, embroidery, handworks) processes on a product and that all processes are manufactured at the right time and quality as desired.
